I was unable to hear the meeting and when I notified the Administrator by chat of problems they said they knew about it and had IT Dept working on it. Later they suggested that I sign out and sign back on. I did and it didn't work it then said, "Host has Locked/block meeting" and block me out. This was poorly done and was a complete waste of time and support was terrible. I use all of the video conferencing softwares so it was not user/operator error!!

Talked with several other individuals and they had problems or could not get on either.
